

Optical illusion

The most incredible optical illusion!

You have 2 curved boxes that are the same size.

The spectators can check.

However, when you place one of them above the other one, the latter seems smaller...

Our brain has obviously some flaws...

As you know, the magician uses the flaws of the human brain, among others, to better trick the audience.

So I leave it up to your imagination to justify to your audience the fact that by moving the boxes, they change size...
